

Cards

By Lisa O'Donovan

I look down at my cards and take in my hand,
I hear the whispers
-you poor thing
-how tragic!
-it's so difficult
Looking down at my cards I realise something,
I quite like my hand!
In acknowledging that,
Accepting that,
Embracing that!
I smile,
Because I've already won the game.